Media Release on co-chair arrangements

The National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services (NATSILS) advises that Wayne Muir has stepped down as co-chair, effective today. NATSILS will continue to be led by co-chair Cheryl Axleby.

NATSILS is committed to ensuring the delivery of community-controlled, holistic and culturally safe legal assistance services to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. NATSILS will continue to address systemic injustices and push for reform in the civil, family and criminal justice systems.
